

Organizations of all types are searching for the best utilization of Internet to deliver customer service and enhance affordable and smart Internet business processing. Salesboom offers businesses the opportunity to interlink with SAP in real-time via a flexible API. The Salesboom API easily joins the two systems via the Internet for a dynamic integration that delivers fast dependable processing using SAP R/3, SAP Portals and My SAP solutions.

Salesboom has developed a SAP R/3 Connector that supports the SAP Remote Function Calls(RFC) and delivers web services through the Salesboom API. Thus, updating files and executing packaged calls between Salesboom and SAP is efficient and dependable.

To integrate SAP and Salesboom it is necessary to identify integration-points. Integration-points identify exactly where it is important to isolate and update transactions that occur in Salesboom that also need to be updated in SAP. Integration-points can also be specific program triggers that initiate actions on a remote SAP R/3 when certain events occur in Salesboom. Whatever the integration point, once they are identified, the Salesboom API calls can be set up to trigger RFCs that are user-driven or workflow-based as the situation requires. Some examples follow.

Example 1

When an Opportunity is Closed/Won in Salesboom, a user-driven or automated request is sent to a SAP R/3 to update inventory, create order, request shipping, etc.

Example 2

When a Sales Manager views a sales report in Salesboom, accounting data from SAP; and Marketing, Sales and Support data from Salesboom, all appear together in Salesboom to provide an accurate, overall picture of the marketing/sales situation in real-time.

In a Nutshell

By utilizing Salesboom Integration connector for SAP R/3 back-end applications your company will acquire real-time capacity to commute information bi-directionally between platforms and synchronize critical business information and processes between Salesboom, SAP R/3 and any other in-house or legacy systems.

It becomes possible to keep isolated applications updated from a single source so that information in all systems is current, accurate and viewable as a support to sound business decisions.

Requirements & Pricing

SAPR/3 connector is a middle-ware component. It allows integrating with R/3 systems via open and non proprietary technology. The connector uses the Internet as communication platform and delivers data via the XML/HTML data format. Thus it seamlessly integrates different IT architectures with R/3.

Because of the SAP R/3 architecture, it is not possible to install the Salesboom R/3 Connector remotely, it must be installed on-premises, local to the R/3 system.
